Implicit learning in children with and without developmental coordination disorder, 56(4):429–435

EDUCATION
Brief Report—Perceptions of Level I and Level II fieldwork in the same site, 56(1):103–106 [Correction, 56(4):349]
Confluence: Moving forward with affective strength, 56(1):69–77

ELDERLY
Independence as a practice issue in occupational therapy: The safety clause, 56(4):369–379

EVALUATION PROCESS, OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY
Development of a standardized instrument to assess computer task performance, 56(1):60–68
Health education program for elderly persons with visual impairments and perceived security in performance of daily occupations: A randomized study, 56(3):322–330

EVIDENCE-BASED PRACTICE
Synthesis of the effects of occupational therapy for persons with stroke, part I: Restoration of roles, 56(3):250–259
Synthesis of the effects of occupational therapy for persons with stroke, part II: Remediation of impairments, 56(3):260–274

FACULTY MEMBERS
Brief Report—Evaluating the effectiveness of occupational therapy faculty development workshops, 56(3):335–339

FEEDING
Young children's occupations: Explicating the dynamics of developmental processes, 56(2):171–179

FIELDWORK MODELS
Brief Report—Perceptions of Level I and Level II fieldwork in the same site, 56(1):103–106 [Correction, 56(4):349]

FINE MOTOR SKILLS
Brief Report—Classroom-based assessment: Validation for the School AMPS, 56(2):210–213
Comparisons among tools, surface orientation, and pencil grasp for children 23 months of age, 56(5):564–572
Multisensory approach to handwriting remediation: Perceptions of school-based occupational therapists, 56(3):305–312

FORCE SENSING ARRAY
Measuring interface pressure: A laboratory-based investigation into the effects of repositioning and sitting, 56(2):185–190

GOAL ATTAINMENT SCALING
Occupational therapy achievement of self-identified goals by adults with acquired brain injury: Phase II, 56(5):489–498

GOAL-DIRECTED ACTION
Effect of instructions on functional reach in persons with and without cerebrovascular accident, 56(4):380–390

GOAL-SPECIFIC THERAPY
Occupational therapy achievement of self-identified goals by adults with acquired brain injury: Phase II, 56(5):489–498

GRASP FORCE
Manual asymmetry during object release under varying task constraints, 56(4):391–401
Effectiveness of school-based occupational therapy intervention on handwriting, 56(1):17–25

GRASP MATURITY
Comparisons among tools, surface orientation, and pencil grasp for children 23 months of age, 56(5):564–572

HAND
Range of motion at the wrist: A comparison study of four wrist extension orthoses and the free hand, 56(2):180–184

HAND FUNCTIONS
Relationship between hand strength and the forces used to access containers by well elderly persons, 56(1):78–85

HAND PREFERENCE
Manual asymmetry during object release under varying task constraints, 56(4):391–401

HANDWRITING
Validity study of the Evaluation Tool of Children's Handwriting–Cursive, 56(4):436–453

HANDWRITING LEGIBILITY AND SPEED
Effectiveness of school-based occupational therapy intervention on handwriting, 56(1):17–25

HEALTH INFORMATION
Brief Report—Occupational therapists' use and perceptions of written client education materials, 56(5):573–576

HEALTH PROMOTION
Outcomes of an occupational therapy program for mothers of children with disabilities: Impact of satisfaction with time use and occupational performance, 56(4):402–410

HISTORY
Pragmatism and structuralism in occupational therapy: The long conversation, 56(1):40–50

HISTORY OF OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY
Occupational therapy's dance with diversity, 56(2):140–148

HOLISTIC HEALTH
Confluence: Moving forward with affective strength, 56(1):69–77

HOMELESSNESS
Process and outcomes of a multimethod needs assessment at a homeless shelter, 56(3):313–321

ICIDH-2
Functional outcomes and daily life activities of African-American elders after hospitalization, 56(2):149–159
Stigma and its management: A pilot study of parental perceptions of the experiences of children with developmental coordination disorder, 56(4):422–428

IMPAIRMENT
Stigma and its management: A pilot study of parental perceptions of the experiences of children with developmental coordination disorder, 56(4):422–428

INFANT DEVELOPMENT
Brief Report—Relationship of infant sleep and play positioning to motor milestone achievement, 56(5):577–580

INSTRUMENTATION
Case Report—Generating a valid questionnaire translation for cross-cultural use, 56(5):585–589

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES
Case Report—Generating a valid questionnaire translation for cross-cultural use, 56(5):585–589

INTERVENTION

KINESTHESIA
Testing the effect of kinesthetic training on handwriting performance in first-grade students, 56(1):26–33

LEISURE BENEFITS
Importance of leisure in the lives of persons with congenital physical disabilities, 56(4):436–445

LOW THRESHOLDS
Sensory processing issues associated with Asperger syndrome: A preliminary investigation, 56(1):97–102

MACULAR DEGENERATION
Health education program for elderly persons with visual impairments and perceived security in performance of daily occupations: A randomized study, 56(3):322–330

MANIPULATION
Effectiveness of school-based occupational therapy intervention on handwriting, 56(1):17–25

MEASUREMENT
Case Report—Spanish translation of the Role Checklist, 56(5):581–584
Patients' perspectives on the Self-Identified Goals Assessment, 56(6): 650–659

META-ANALYSIS
Synthesis of the effects of occupational therapy for persons with stroke, part I: Restoration of roles, 56(3):250–259

Synthesis of the effects of occupational therapy for persons with stroke, part II: Remediation of impairments, 56(3):260–274

MOTIVATION
Powered mobility and preschoolers with complex developmental delays, 56(1):86–96

MOTOR LEARNING
Implicit learning in children with and without developmental coordination disorder, 56(4):429–435

MOVEMENT KINEMATICS
Effect of instructions on functional reach in persons with and without cerebrovascular accident, 56(4):380–390

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS
Case Report—Improving mobility and community access in an adult with ataxia, 56(4):462–466

NEUROSCIENCE
Posttraumatic stress disorder and traumatic hand injuries: A neuro-occupational view, 56(5):527–537

OCCUPATION
Distinguished Scholar Lecture, Participation in the occupations of everyday life, 56(6): 640–649
Patients' perspectives on the Self-Identified Goals Assessment, 56(6): 650–659

OCCUPATIONAL BEHAVIOR
Ecological synergies in two groups of zoo chimpanzees: Divergent patterns of time use, 56(2):160–170

OCCUPATIONAL ENGAGEMENT
Functional outcomes and daily life activities of African-American elders after hospitalization, 56(2):149–159

OCCUPATIONAL PERFORMANCE
Interrater reliability, concurrent validity, responsiveness, and predictive validity of the Melville-Nelson Self-Care Assessment, 56(1):51–59
Prediction of school performance using the Miller Assessment for Preschoolers (MAP): A validity study, 56(5):547–555
Process and outcomes of a multimethod needs assessment at a homeless shelter, 56(3):313–321

OCCUPATIONAL PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENT

OCCUPATIONAL SCIENCE
Ecological synergies in two groups of zoo chimpanzees: Divergent patterns of time use, 56(2):160–170

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY (TREATMENT)
Brief Report—ADL ability and use of technical aids in persons with late effects of polio, 56(4):457–461
Case Report—Spanish translation of the Role Checklist, 56(5):581–584
Distinguished Scholar Lecture, Participation in the occupations of everyday life, 56(6): 640–649
Prediction of school performance using the Miller Assessment for Preschoolers (MAP): A validity study, 56(5):547–555
Range of motion at the wrist: A comparison study of four wrist extension orthoses and the free hand, 56(2):180–184
Relationship between hand strength and the forces used to access containers by well elderly persons, 56(1):78–85

OLDER CLIENTS
Brief Report—Occupational therapists' use and perceptions of written client education materials, 56(5):573–576

PALLIATIVE CARE
Doing-being-becoming: Occupational experiences of persons with life-threatening illnesses, 56(3):285–295

PARTICIPATION
Distinguished Scholar Lecture, Participation in the occupations of everyday life, 56(6): 640–649
Stigma and its management: A pilot study of parental perceptions of the experiences of children with developmental coordination disorder, 56(4):422–428

PEDIATRICS
Multisensory approach to handwriting remediation: Perceptions of school-based occupational therapists, 56(3):305–312
Shifts in parent–therapist partnerships: Twelve years of change, 56(5):556–563

PERCEPTUAL LEARNING
Implicit learning in children with and without developmental coordination disorder, 56(4):429–435

PERFORMANCE MEASURE
Brief Report—Research productivity among occupational therapy faculty members in the United States, 56(3):331–334

PERSONAL CONSTRUCTS
Brief Report—Aspects of emic and etic measurement: Lessons from Mary Poppins, 56(2):214–216

PHILOSOPHY
Pragmatism and structuralism in occupational therapy: The long conversation, 56(1):40–50
Reclaiming the vision of reaching with heart as well as hands, 56(5):517–526

PRACTICE PATTERNS
Brief Report—Occupational therapists' use and perceptions of written client education materials, 56(5):573–576

PRESSURE MAPPING
Measuring interface pressure: A laboratory-based investigation into the effects of repositioning and sitting, 56(2):185–190

PROCESS SKILLS
Brief Report—Classroom-based assessment: Validation for the School AMPS, 56(2):210–213

PROFESSIONAL CONTROL
Independence as a practice issue in occupational therapy: The safety clause, 56(4):369–379

PROFESSIONAL GROWTH
Brief Report—Evaluating the effectiveness of occupational therapy faculty development workshops, 56(3):335–339

PROFESSIONAL–PATIENT RELATIONS
Reclaiming the vision of reaching with heart as well as hands, 56(5):517–526

PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE
Pragmatism and structuralism in occupational therapy: The long conversation, 56(1):40–50
Reclaiming the vision of reaching with heart as well as hands, 56(5):517–526

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT
Process and outcomes of a multimethod needs assessment at a homeless shelter, 56(3):313–321

PROPRIOCEPTION
Testing the effect of kinesthetic training on handwriting performance in first-grade students, 56(1):26–33

PSYCHOSOCIAL PRACTICE

PUBLICATION PATTERN
Brief Report—Research productivity among occupational therapy faculty members in the United States, 56(3):331–334

QUALITATIVE METHOD
Importance of leisure in the lives of persons with congenital physical disabilities, 56(4):436–445

QUALITY OF LIFE

RACIAL BIAS
Representations of race, ethnicity, and social class in case examples in The American Journal of Occupational Therapy, 56(2):130–139
